FOLD 1

- Take your children to the nearest police station, hospital and clinic to show them how to find it easily – point out landmarks to prevent them from getting lost.
- Teach your children to take alternative routes to and from regular places they visit. Discuss these routes with each other and confirm each day which route will be taken. If your child goes missing, you can start looking on the planned routes.
- Teach your children to make loud noises in order to attract attention.
- Teach your children that they should never go anywhere with someone they don't trust. They should also never receive gifts from strangers or go anywhere with strangers.
- Create an exclusive family password – teach your children that when you send a person to pick them up, the person should know the password, otherwise your children should not go with the person.
- Be one step ahead. If your child is on any Social Media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Tiktok etc, familiarise yourself with the technology and find a way to monitor it.

- Know where your child is at all times, whom they're with and what they're wearing.
 - Always keep a recent photograph of your child on you, so that the photo will be readily available in case of emergency.
 - Make an effort to know your child's friends – know their names, addresses and numbers.
 - Be involved in your child's life, but don't force it. Build a trusting relationship and create a home environment where they want to be and bring their friends to.
 - Teach your children their own names and addresses, as well as your name and telephone number.
 - Keep your children close to home and teach them the importance of the BUDDY SYSTEM: never go anywhere alone.
 - ID Bracelets (or any other form of identification with your number on it) is very useful.

- VERY IMPORTANT:
- This document not only serves as a guideline as to what will be needed when a child goes missing, but also as an educational tool. Complete this document with your child. It provides them with the opportunity to learn more about themselves and also to feel proud of their Identity Kit.
- 2
- When your child goes missing (see page 10), Missing Children will design a flyer with the information provided and distribute it to our social media platforms.
- For more information about our organisation, please visit www.missingchildren.org.za.
- Kind Regards, MCSA Team
